In this event we had motivated our friends and students to donate their hair in order to encourage cancer patients. We know that cancer people they go through a lot. As a part of it they lose their hair! Even though they fought the cancer, they somehow feel insecure due to their hair loss! To help them overcome this inferiority, we can donate our hair! Collecting that fallen hair and making wigs from them and donating them to cancer patients is a very great idea!! This idea is spread among the people. Information is spread by sticking posters and sharing pamphlets.

Finally, we end this event with great response successfully.
